LOAN RALLY TONIGHT.

County Chairman Emery and O. W. Hill of Boston Speakers. Good Music.

Alumni hall will be the scene of a mass meeting liberty loan rally tonight at 8. The program consists of music by the Schubert club, a solo by Mrs. R. P. Webster, audience-singing of some national anthems and speaking by Mayor C. S. Emery of Newport, county chairman of the liberty loan organization, and O. W. Hill of the Boston Federal Reserve bank. The subject will be the Third Liberty loan of which Barton village and immediate territory is asked to take $33,300.00. Thursday a canvass of the town will be made by business men who have volunteered for the service. Everyone will be welcome tonight.

VERMONT NOTES.

C. G. Page of Hyde Park, grandson of Senator Page, is assistant pay master on the U. S. collier Cyclops, which is more than a month overdue now and is thought to be lost, perhaps sunk by submarines.

Six Vermont towns, Williston, Richmond, Huntington, Newport, St. Johnsbury were included in the 15 which were given honor flags by the New England committee Monday for over-subscription to the Liberty loan.

That Fort Ethan Allen is to be a base hospital is now a well-established fact and a number of surgeons some of them of high rank, have been ordered to report at once to this post. The officials at the post have received no official notice to the effect that a base hospital is to be established there, but there are excellent reasons for believing that the barracks are to be turned into hospitals for the wounded who are brought to this country.

Barton Still Far in Lead.

In the sale of thrift and war savings stamps in Orleans county Barton still has a large lead over any other town, in fact its per capita sale is double that of any other town. Glover ranks second and Newport third. While a Westfield correspondent claims a sale of over $130 worth of stamps there the official detailed report as given up to March 30 is as follows. Postmasters and others should report often in order to get proper credit in the official returns.

COUNTY COURT.

Court convened April 10 at 2. A verdict was brought in in the Oben vs. Ducharme case for the defendant to recover his costs.

The will case of the Abel G. Bugbee estate was retried in the afternoon after having been to supreme court. No decision has been given as yet. Court then adjourned until April 16 when it had a little more business to finish up.

Make Your Table 100% Wheatless.

Never before has America faced so tremendous a situation and been so much in need of strong initiative by her people, as well as by her leaders. The Food Administration of the United States is imploring us to go the limit in wheat conservation for the next four months.

For the sake of freedom and justice, for the sake of America and our Allies we must save wheat to the utmost. To the hotels and restaurants I say, get in the game. Quick. At a special meeting in Washington Friday, 500 leading hotel men from all parts of the country pledged themselves absolutely to abolish the use of wheat products in their hotels, until the next harvest. We cannot ship any corn across now for about two months as this is the germinating season for corn and it will not stand shipment, therefore, if we are to feed our own soldiers and sailors our Allies for the next four months it must be wheat.

Next week's Monitor will contain an item under this heading, which should interest everyone in this county. I wish that every family might arrange to procure a copy.

BOYS AND GIRLS PAYING.

Names of Those Who Had Paid Their Y. M. C. A. Pledges

The "Earn and Give" campaign of the Y. M. C. A. among the boys and girls, which was begun in November reached a successful conclusion April 1, although not all the money has been paid in yet. During the Y. M. C. A. campaign last fall, pledges were taken from the boys and girls to give $10 or $5 in case two signed one pledge. The pledge further required that the money was to be earned or saved. The sum was purposely made large by the promoters in order to challenge the best in the boys and girls by its difficulty. To quote from "American Youth," the official organ of the boys' work: "The interesting fact stands out clearly that boys everywhere rose to the estimate of their capacity made by adults."

From all over the country came stories of genuinely heroic work to earn the money, and Orleans county is not without its share. Surely, heroes are in the making when school boys and girls can complete such an undertaking and earn and pay nearly a thousand dollars in the few towns listed below. "Does anyone who has worked with boys know of any finer demonstration of personal sacrifice on the part of boys than is already shown?"

The total pledges in the county, exclusive of Newport are $850. 72% of which has been paid. Below is the standing of the towns and the names of those who have paid. The money to complete the unpaid pledges should be paid to the local treasurer as soon as possible in order to secure the certificates which are given as underrings. Anyone entitled to the but-terflies who has not one may get them from B. R. Buchanan of West Glover.

Mrs. Sarah Case.

Mrs. Sarah Case, wife of the late Levi P. Case, passed away Tuesday evening, April 9, 1918, after an illness of three weeks.

Sarah Elizabeth Leonard was born in Westville, N. Y., April 12, 1841, the daughter of Ebenezer and Lydia Button Leonard. She was one of five children. Her early life was spent in her birthplace. She taught several terms of school and possessed of a fine voice and rare musical ability, acted as organist and sang in the choir and was active in all church work during her young womanhood.

Nov. 3, 1862, she was married to Levi P. Case of Coventry. Mr. Case was one of the foremost photographers of the day and was at the time of their marriage located at Westville, N. Y.

To them were born four children, Charles E., who died in infancy; Nellie E., now Mrs. H. J. Stannard, Laura B., and Bertha L., who died Oct. 7, 1891, at the age of 15 years.

A few years after their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Case moved to Coventry where they lived until the fall of 1882 when they came to Barton to the farm west of the village now owned by C. T. Miles. The buildings were destroyed by fire in the summer of 1911 and they moved to the village to make their home, Mr. Case passing away Nov. 5, 1917.

Mrs. Case was a woman of strong character and rare ability. She loved the Bible and believed in it with a strong faith. Her life was unselfish and always devoted to serving others. She was a member of the Congregational church, and for many years a regular attendant at its services and an active worker in the Sunday school, the Ladies' Society and Home Missionary society to which she belonged. Charitable in her judgments of others, with a kind word and a smile for everyone, most appreciative of any little kindness done her, one who spoke to all of anyone, a devoted wife and mother, a true friend and a kind neighbor she was respected by all and dearly loved by those who knew her best.

A quiet, uncomplaining heroism characterized her attitude as she was forced on account of failing health to relinquish her hold upon the things she loved, but although shut in from the world, she always maintained a wide interest in all that was good.

In her final illness, realizing she could not get well, she many times expressed her strong love and faith in Christ, her only regret seeming to be that it was so hard to leave the loved ones.

Mrs. Case is survived by two daughters, Mrs. H. J. Stannard and Laura B. Case, both of Barton, and one sister, Mrs. Henry B. Hawkins, of Malone, N. Y.
